Greetings all! I hope your spring hatching season was successful and your Ameraucana grow-outs are doing well and that a few are exceptional! Due to long-haul COVID I have not hatched much in the way of Ameraucana thus far in 2022. I am planning one large hatch in a few weeks, but mostly I have been relying on hens to go broody and hatch the eggs. So far about 25% of the hens have gone broody with the black bantam and large fowl being the broodiest of the varieties I have.

I have been pleased with the egg lay and eggshell color of the silver large fowl. I hatched eggs from Dawnalysce Clifford of Maine last year. It took several attempts at shipping to get a few hatching eggs here to Missouri that were in incubating condition upon arrival. Success was achieved when Dawnalysce suggested trying UPS. The eggs arrived in three days and 50% hatched. I ended up with five pullets and three cockerels that made it to maturity. The pullets sure are layers of nice large light sky-blue eggs.

I am also quite pleased with the results of some December 2021 hatches of brown red x wheaten and buff x wheaten chicks. The bantams were laying in December of 2021, so I decided to try a few improvement crosses to see how they would go. I am grateful to Mike Gilbert for the suggested crosses for starting an improvement subline for the varieties here at Bantam Hill. For the brown red I am looking to improve head color of the females and on the buff I was looking to fix type a bit and have a few better ones with which to work. I have a cockerel from the brown red cross and a pullet from the buff cross that I think are especially nice and will build an improvement subline from them for each variety while continuing with the original line. I also hatched some silver bantams at that time but ended up culling them all due to red leakage in the wingbows. I am sure if I had hatched a few more there would have been a keeper or two.

2022 Club Elections

This is an election year for the Ameraucana Alliance. I will be recruiting an Election Commissioner and Assistant Election Commissioner by August 20, 2022, per the constitution Article 5. Article 6 of the constitution describes the requirements for service as president of the club and on the board of directors.

I will take this opportunity to express my desire to not serve in the capacity of president of the club if others are willing to run for the position. I am willing to continue in the capacity of a director but given my ongoing long-haul COVID-19 symptoms and a newly diagnosed spine issue, I do not feel that I can give the position of club president the attention and energy it deserves. Hopefully, others who meet the requirements to serve as club president outlined in Article 6 of the constitution will be willing to run for the office.

National Meets

Thank you to the teams that are organizing the North Central and Western 2022 National Meets. It is a wonderful thing to have dedicated members in both areas of the country willing to organize and host the national meets this year. It is a testament to the dedication of the members of the club to support multiple national meets every few years to assist in more opportunities for large numbers of Ameraucana to be shown together and for club members to enjoy the fellowship. The list of the awards for the 2022 National Meets is included in this newsletter on page 5.

It is difficult to imagine that it is already time to begin thinking about bids for the 2023 National Meet location. Please contact me at Michael_Muenks@yahoo.com if you would like a bid package to submit for your favorite local show. All bids for the 2023 National Meet need to have been submitted by November 1, 2022, to the board of directors who will then decide and post that decision no later than November 15, 2022. Because local clubs often need to have meeting to consider bidding on a national meet, it is important that potential hosts for national meets be contacted early. For more information regarding national meet placement please consult the club meet policy located on the club website.

Appreciation

Thank you to Rebecca Howie and John Blehm for their work on the American Bantam Association (ABA) and American Poultry Association (APA) yearbook ads the last several months. It is a big job and they handled it masterfully. I also want to thank all the club members who took out ads in the yearbooks. Thank you for the support of the Ameraucana Alliance, the ABA, and the APA.

Welcome to Summer! I am sure glad to have some warm sunshine here. There has been plenty of rain in my area, almost too much, but I won't complain about that. There are a lot of areas that are suffering drought conditions, so I have to be thankful.

My carport/coop is coming along slowly. Gosh, I think I am getting old because I often run low on energy before I get to the end of the "to do" list for the day. I kept back a lot of stock last fall so have not hatched very many this spring. I am looking forward to seeing how they molt out this year. Wheaten hens will often lose some tail color, so I have been focusing on improving tail color retention the past few seasons and been happy with that progress.

New Ameraucana Alliance sew on patches are available now. They are 3-inch round patches with the new Wheaten cock logo and a blue background. They will be $5.00 shipping included. You can order them online soon or send a check to me made out to the Ameraucana Alliance for $5.00.

Hello Ameraucana members. It is good to be heading into Summer here in Wisconsin. Spring was mostly cool, wet, and very windy. In addition, Highly Pathogenic Avian Influenza reared its ugly head here again for the first time since 2015. This caused our Coulee Region Poultry Club to cancel our show (scheduled June 4, 2022) again this year. Wisconsin's first HPAI case this year was March 14th. Our most recent case was May 23rd. HPAI is very dangerous to birds and requires a quick response because it is very contagious and deadly. It can infect all domestic poultry and wild birds, especially waterfowl. All Wisconsin flocks that have had a positive HPAI have been quickly depopulated.

Wisconsin's current order bans all "domestic bird movement to or participation in any shows, exhibitions, swap meets or other events in Wisconsin where live domestic birds are brought together an dispense". This remains in effect until 30 days after the last detection of HPAI among domestic flocks in Wisconsin. With our last positive on May 23rd currently we cannot show any poultry until at least June 22nd. Since the migrating of waterfowl is done during the summer, we are hopeful to not have any new cases and be able to still have poultry at our local fairs.

I hope everyone's hatching season has gone well. Personally, I have decided not to hatch any chicks this spring. I am moving to a new place a few miles down the road. This will require downsizing my flock and some work in the building (coop to be) to house my birds. Hatching and raising chicks did not seem like a good idea currently.

Wishing everyone the best this summer and have fingers crossed looking forward to seeing you at our Nationals this fall.

Note: The Treasurer's report is another part of this newsletter.

Hello fellow Ameraucana fanciers! As always, it is a very busy season here on our small hobby farm. We have a new batch of Shetland lambs, including a super cute bottle baby that lost his momma from birthing complications. We also recently brought home a mini dairy calf to raise for the homestead. She is the sweetest and tiniest cow ever! The kids are raising hogs, rabbits, and ducks for their 4-H and FFA projects for our county fair this fall and they are just finishing up their spring sports and other activities. School is nearly out for summer and I know these kiddos plan to continue to keep me on my toes!

I've finally started hatching from my Ameraucana and Marans pairings, and although I started hatching a bit later this year so that I would still have my best birds in condition for our two spring shows, I anticipate some nice birds coming out of my breeding pens this season. I am still working with and exhibiting Large Fowl Ameraucanas in White, Self-Blue, Black, Splash, and Blue varieties. This is an absolutely amazing breed to work with. From the cheeky faces to the blue eggs, they'll always be my favorite.

My first generation of laced Blues did very well at our fall and spring shows, placing well in the AOSB class. I was even lucky enough to win Champion Large Fowl with a Blue hen at the Columbia Poultry Exhibitors Spring Invitational in April. It's been amazing to get back into the show hall after Covid restrictions had shut us down for a long time and I'm grateful for everyone that volunteered to help put on our shows and meets. It's a lot of work that often goes unrecognized. I just want to let everyone know they are truly appreciated!

We have been seeing an increase in cases of high pathogenic Avian Influenza in our state, so we are taking extra precautions. I really pray it does not get worse up here and I hope our fairs and fall shows are still able to be held as planned. I will be judging 4-H and FFA poultry, market, and showmanship later this summer. I also plan to attend the Ameraucana Alliance Western National Meet on October 14-16 at the Utah Fancy Poultry Association Fall Show in Ogden, Utah. This will be our first trip out of state for a show, so I'm crossing my fingers everything will work out. I'm very excited and will even miss opening weekend of our deer hunting season to attend. I would love to see as many fellow enthusiasts as we can while we are at the show!

Have a great summer and growing season!

2022 National Meet Awards

The Ameraucana Alliance Board of Directors is pleased to announce the following awards for the 2022 national meets. The awards list applies to both the North Central National Meet and the Western National Meet. The awards are available at each of the national meets only to club members who attend the national meets.

Any club members wishing to donate toward the award package for the national meets or donate a special award for one of the national meets should send the donation to the club's treasurer Jeff Sonsalla. Jeff's contact information may be found on the last page of this newsletter.
